“Since our PC launch last year, a console launch for Shape of Dreams was the biggest request from our community,” said Eunseop Shim, CEO and co-founder of Lizard Smoothie. “We wanted to show how much we value their opinions by combining the console launch with our first anniversary update. We can’t wait to hear everyone’s reactions, and we hope these new updates meet expectations from our fanbase.”

Complemented by the Starless Path anniversary update for PCs and consoles, the fast-paced action roguelite supports crossplay across all platforms with up to four-player co-op gameplay. People who purchase the game on consoles will also receive a special launch-commemoration costume for Lacerta, called the Red Flash Lacerta.

The Starless Path update is the ultimate celebration to commemorate the first anniversary of Shape of Dreams. Focused on offering a fresh experience with community-requested feedback, long-time and new players alike can look forward to new Traveler Cetus, a new ending, individual storylines for all nine Travelers, alongside various in-game content such as new costumes, mementos and memories.

“The Shape of Dreams fanbase continues to grow since its first year, thanks to the steady interest of global players,” said a NEOWIZ representative. “Marking its first anniversary, we plan to expand the platform to consoles to reach new users and deliver the game’s fun to an even wider audience.”

As a special bonus, the game’s official soundtrack is now available. Those who purchase the Shape of Dreams OST will receive the legendary-grade Royal Guard Lacerta costume. A bundle containing both the base game and the soundtrack is available at a 10% discount, and a collaboration bundle featuring BlazBlue Entropy Effect is also purchasable at a 10% discount.

Since its PC launch in 2025, Shape of Dreams has garnered positive responses from global players, thanks to its extensive build customization and 4-player co-op. The game has sold over 1.5 million copies and won both the Indie Game Award and the Best Developer Award at the 2025 Korea Game Awards. Its gameplay quality was also recognized critically, with a score of 84 on the global review aggregator Metacritic and a very positive rating on Steam.
